

Here is what one Experimental citizen scientist says about her participation:

Dear WBFJ Research Foundation:

I just wanted to take a moment and tell you what a wonderful experience I am having with the PROJECT WILDBIRD®. The quantity of birds has increased so much in my yard.

This spring for the first time ever I have observed Chipping Sparrows, Indigo Buntings, Blue Jays, Tufted Titmice, Purple Martins and Baltimore Orioles in my yard.

I know the Titmouse, Sparrows, Jays and Buntings are coming for one of the seeds you sent me that I had never thought to offer before. Perhaps the Orioles & Martins have visited because of all the increased bird activity.

My husband has now caught the bird fever with all the birds in our yard and we now have 2 Tree Swallows and 2 Bluebirds nesting in boxes he put up. There is hardly a moment at our home when you can not look out a window and see several varieties of birds. Open the window and the sweet sounds echo through the house.

Thank you for choosing me to be part of such a wonderful project. I can hardly wait to see what new bird I might observe tomorrow.

L. Treat, May 29, 2007